

I'm Your Girl

It's so hard to pretend
That's there's not something going on between us
And I know people know
When they see me see you

There's just no use anymore
Tryna keep it behind closed doors
So honey why the delay?
They're gonna talk about us anyway

When you gonna let em know that I'm your girl?
Why's it gotta be a secret that we've got something real
Tell me when you're ready, 'cause I wanna show the world
When you gonna let em know that I'm your girl?

When we're home, and alone
You tell me I'm the only one you dream of
That you'd do anything
To make sure I stick around

So is it too much to say
I want your mother to know my name
So if you feel this way
Why does it have to stay undercover?

When you gonna let her know that I'm your girl?
Why's it gotta be a secret that we've got something real
Tell me when you're ready, 'cause I wanna show the world
When you gonna let em know that I'm your girl?
